FOUR COUPLES GIVE 342 YEARS OF MISSIONARY SERVICE

Cunninghams in Tokyo

William Dayton Cunningham and Mrs. Emily Blackstone Boyd Cunningham were the first "Independent" Missionaries. They sailed to Japan on October 1, 1901. W. D. Cunningham served 35 years as a missionary to Japan, and Mrs. Emily Cunningham served 52 years. He preceded her in death, passing away June 24, 1936. She passed away on Christmas Day, 1953.

The Cunninghams originally planned to go to Japan under the Foreign Christian Missionary Society, but due to an attack of Infantile Paralysis on the eve of their departure, the Society delayed two years and in April 1900 informed him that his physical condition made it impossible for him ever to become a missionary. This heartbroken couple soon discovered another truth: God and the missionary society were not identical. They made plans to go to Japan depending upon God. Their record of missionary service brought apologies from some of the men who refused to send them.

Their work could be summarized as teaching, writing, and directing the mission. Japan and Korea were their fields of love and labor. In the last issue of the "Tokyo Christian" before his death, W. D. Cunningham wrote: "If anyone is in doubt as to the happiness of a missionary life, I should say, try it."

EDITED BY WILLIAM E. McGILVREY

FOUR REASONS

"I would like to state my own reasons for not wanting to be a part of a missionary organization."

—Guy Mayfield

1 A missionary organization takes the responsibility away from the local church at home. This is the God-given missionary organization. Even Paul says to the church at Corinth: "Whomsoever ye shall approve, them will I send with letters." (I Corinthians 16:3)

Personally I have had a good deal of experience dealing with the United States government and with a foreign government that has a religion of the state, and a party in power that does not favor missionaries. I have had everything from both governments that I needed to do my work. The only pressure that I have ever brought was letters from local churches to the United States government showing me to be a representative of those churches. I believe that the local congregation can do anything that any missionary society can do, and do it better, and certainly more scripturally.

2 A missionary society takes away from the Church in its testimony on the field. The ideal toward which we who believe in the direct-support method are working is that members of every local church in America will know that they are operating through their local congregations in the far corners of the earth.

3 The missionary society becomes in the eyes of the native Christians on the mission field a world headquarters, and the missionaries its representatives. How can you talk to the native Christian about undenominational Christianity and the complete autonomy of the local church when your organization only differs in titles from that of the most highly organized denomination? (He refers to the Christian Missionary Fellowship. This article is an excerpt from an article in which Guy Mayfield answers Executive Secretary William L. Thompsons Christian Standard article on CMF. A brochure with both articles is available for 25¢ from Mission Services, Box 968, Joliet, Illinois.) Let us go to the foreign field as individual Christians sent from local congregations at home for the purpose of bringing souls to Christ, and forming them into local congregations that will in turn send out others.

4 The missionary society takes many decisions out of the hands of the local church and the missionary on the field and puts them in the hands of men who cannot know, even though they have visited the field, what the best decisions are.

For all of these reasons, I want to remain a direct-support missionary.

—Guy Mayfield

MISSIONARY PRAYER LIST — NO. 12
(Corrected to December 1, 1959)

GIVE THROUGH CHURCH

The missionaries listed in this Missionary Prayer List are church-sent Christian missionaries. Please send all of your gifts and support through the church where you worship Christ, or ask the missionary whom you wish to support for the name and address of the church sending him. The missionary will supply other information you may desire; just write to him telling him what you desire. The United States Government ruling regarding Income Tax deductions and the Bible pattern for missions agree that the church is the channel through which missions must be done. Give through the Church of Christ or Christian Church, thus following the pattern revealed in God's Word.

KEY TO THIS LIST

The key to an understanding of this Missionary Prayer List:

The missionary is listed along with his mission address. If the missionary has a Forwarding Agent, that name and address are listed in parentheses ( ).

R – means Recruit, a new missionary in active preparation to go to the mission field.

F – means Furlough. (Furloughs vary and frequent changes occur. We maintain a Furlough List that is as nearly up-to-date as possible. If you need this list for a Christian Service Camp or Missionary Rally plans, please request it.)

V – means Veteran Missionary, a soldier of the cross in retirement, not planning to return to the field.

Missionaries changing from missionary activity to regular self-supporting work will be listed for one year so you will know where they are serving.

Packet Programs and Slide Programs can be obtained on several of these missionaries from C.O.M.E., Mission Services, Box 968, Joliet, Illinois. Horizons is published every first and third Saturday to bring readers the latest news from the fields.

PART IV

PREACHER TRAINING SCHOOLS

THESE colleges present themselves as Christian church or church of Christ schools to train preachers. We suggest investigation before investment. You are not obligated to support EVERYTHING, but you should support something and an accurate stewardship requires a knowledge of the user of your gift, as well as the giving of it. Invest in the training of Christian Youth . . .

Proper leadership means proper growth.

Nebraska. She gave 51 years of missionary service. She still advises others in her special field.

When they arrived in Manila there were three churches; when she left there were 266 indigenous churches, five Bible Colleges and 41,000 Christians. Others carry on the work.

These four missionary couples pioneered the way, and others now carry on their work in these fields. Any work for Christ soon outgrows one couple, then others are recruited to help do the Lord's work. Prayers are being answered as others carry the Gospel to the lost. Your prayer support is needed now for all in this MISSIONARY PRAYER LIST and for others who are planning to go.
